the ultimate guide to christian homemaking advises readers on everything from meal planning to interior decorating biblical womanhood to budgeting serving as a comprehensive handbook for the woman and her home for many of us the word home brings warm thoughts and happy memories far more than the dictionary's simple definition of a place of birth or one's living quarters for many of us home is where the heart is yet it is even more than that it is the secure environment that allows our hearts to develop a haven of growth quiet and rest the place where we love and are loved sadly though this kind of home is beginning to disappear as our busy society turns homes into houses where related people abide but where there is no heart with a desire to help you nurture your family's heart susan schaeffer macaulay presents a clear blueprint for constructing a home that survives the variety of situations that you face in modern life with jesus christ as the foundation using tools such as common sense realism and traditions you can build a secure loving environment where every member of your family can flourish two stranded couples find shelter in an inn but find themselves trapped in a game with rules setting up a life or death situation an exploration of how ordinary u.s. christians create global connections through the multibillion dollar child sponsorship industry child sponsorship emerged from nineteenth century protestant missions to become one of today's most profitable private fund raising tools in organizations including world vision compassion international and childfund investigating two centuries of sponsorship and its related practices in american living rooms churches and shopping malls christian globalism at home reveals the myriad ways that christians who don't travel outside of the united states cultivate global sensibilities kaell traces the movement of money letters and images along with a wide array of sponsorship's lesser known embodied and aesthetic techniques such as playacting hymn singing eating and fasting she shows how through this process u.s. christians attempt to hone globalism of a particular sort by oscillating between the sensory experiences of a god's eye view and the intimacy of human relatedness these global aspirations are buoyed by grand hopes and subject to intractable limitations since they so often rely on the inequities they claim to redress based on extensive interviews archival research and fieldwork christian globalism at home explores how u.s. christians imagine and experience the world without ever leaving home in this gripping thought provoking and sometimes emotional from the trenches account of religious persecution in america harvard trained lawyer david french brings a unique perspective to the culture wars fighting the small battles in the small places french has seen first hand the real life consequences of an imbalanced legal system and a christian political approach that sometimes works against the very freedoms it seeks to protect through the use of stories case studies and personal accounts french traces precisely how christians fight battles in church school and the workplace to preserve the basic right to share the gospel and worship as they choose a season for justice will challenge and move its readers and force them to think clearly and soberly about the real legal attack on christianity in america want to simplify your life it happens to the best of us purchases paperwork gifts and keepsakes accumulate before we know it we've amassed a mountain that seems too massive to move we upsize to accommodate sentimental items we can't bear to part with bills read like our possessions own us rather than the other way around are you swamped by stuff clobbered by clutter tired of budgeting excess housing and storage would you like to simplify minimize or lighten your load need tips on helping a parent or elder downsize want to trade the stuff of life for a more abundant lifestyle maybe you've tried to simplify on your own but you need more than moral support you need help from the holy spirit divine guidance for your specific situation if you're looking for a bible based approach to what can be a decidedly spiritual journey this book is for you partner with god to unpack your connection with sentimental things conquer clutter decrease household contents debt and stress create a budget that will serve you for life free up space time and resources get out of storage for good reinvent and revitalize your home redecorate with resonance find freedom from the material ties that bind explore the spiritual foundations to your relationship with things discover the liberation of letting go catch god's vision for simpler joyful christian living less really can be more click above to order downsizing how decluttering graces your heart and home today god calls us to live lives of holiness but that is impossible without a close walk with christ that walk must begin with repentance it is crucial to living biblical practical holiness everyday crawford loritts takes a fresh look at the role of repentance in make it home before dark written with warmth and insight loritts gives help to those struggling with sin or rejection in their lives this is an honest and hopeful book full of biblical insight and practical advice it may be just the tool to help you in your journey to a fuller life in christ christians will find this volume full of practical biblical advice on christ centered family living communicating with family members family guidance and discipline living with an unbelieving spouse and many other areas pastors and christians counselors will value this work for its insight and faithfulness to god's word what did god use to draw a radical committed unbeliever to himself did god take her to an evangelistic rally or since she had her doctorate in literature did he use something in print no god used an invitation to dinner in a modest home from a humble couple who lived out the gospel daily simply and authentically with this story of her conversion as a backdrop rosaria butterfield invites us into her home to show us how god can use this same radical ordinary hospitality to bring the gospel to our lost friends and neighbors such hospitality sees our homes as not our own but as god's tools for the furtherance of his kingdom as we welcome those who look think believe and act differently from us into our everyday sometimes messy lives helping them see what true christian faith really looks like on any given night more than half a million americans and canadians find themselves sleeping on the streets in shelters cars and other places not meant for human habitation yet as this crisis continues to grow it remains one of the least talked about especially in churches even where compassion and empathy exist the complexities around homelessness can make us feel stuck overwhelmed or numb to the existence of unhoused people in our cities and neighborhoods reporting back from his work in homeless services minister and advocate kevin nye introduces readers to the christ he's met in tents shelters and drop in centers he demystifies homelessness by journeying into complex issues like affordable housing mental illness addiction and more while reimagining our theological approach to these matters and educating us on how they intersect with homelessness this thorough and intimate book shows us that from the margins Jesus has something to teach us all about grace something that could change the landscape of homelessness entirely if we're ready to hear it reformed theology has made a welcome return to the church with its resurgent emphasis on justification unfortunately has come confusion over the biblical pattern of sanctification rather than turning to the plain biblical language of faith humility and obedience many are turning inward and measuring genuine love and obedience by their emotional experiences affection for God submissive love rooted in humble faith is being defined almost exclusively as emotional sensations of joy in a culture driven by feelings obeying out of duty is derided as legalism and striving to be holy is considered a work of the law many in the church are wondering am I really obeying if I don't feel like it none of us desire to become the hypocrites Jesus warned of in Matthew 15:8 this people honors me with their lips but their heart is far away from me influential leaders in the church today aren't helping when they challenge believers to cease all striving and simply reflect on the fact of their justification in this book Jerry Wragg and Paul Shirley call us back to Scripture's manifest blueprint for becoming conformed to the image of Christ with balance and warm-hearted clarity they demonstrate that God's grace empowers us for every good deed they show us that our justification doesn't liberate us from being diligent in our efforts to trust and obey but rather it gives us power to withstand temptation and walk with the Lord in victory because of grace we are under obligation to the word of God and now have resurrection power flowing through our spiritual veins strengthening every discipline of grace and growing fruit that remains forever through faith filled submission of our will to the word of God we work out our salvation knowing it is God who is at work in us both to will and to work for his good pleasure Phil 2:13 what a refreshing book imagine a church whose primary emphasis is to make people feel at home I wish every young pastor could read this book thanks Lee for a wonderful reminder of what the church is to be Erwin W. Lutzer pastor emeritus the Moody Church Chicago is your church acting like an organization or a home you love your church but you wonder if it could be more there's a greeting team but is there a true spirit of welcoming there are committees leaders and programs but is there a spirit-led vision there are small groups but are people truly connected pastor and award-winning author Lee Elov was troubled by these questions then he had a realization he wasn't called to lead an organization but a family his job was to be a homemaker not a CEO this paradigm shift changed everything in feels like home he shares what he's learned from over 40 years of ministry about being the family of God and how to live into that beautiful reality this short volume is full of stories of small adjustments that make a huge difference in the effectiveness warmth and growth of a church community discover how the love of a family can transform your church Miss Evelyn as she is known in her neighborhood offers 52 winsome devotions that witness to Christian love as the foundation of gracious hospitality reflecting on gatherings at her table that have brought together friends family and strangers Miss Evelyn inspires readers to reach out to others in their own setting to love their neighbor a little helpful hosting advice and recipes along the way provide even more encouragement and delight these devotional gems and recipes will appeal to a wide range of Christian women from practiced hostesses to those who desire to open their homes and hearts with grace and love this book can be an appropriate gift for a hostess as well wonderfully imaginative and provocative in its interdisciplinary approach to the study of nineteenth-century American religion and women's role within it A choice an important addition to the fields of religious studies women's history and American cultural history journal of the American Academy of Religion a complete and complex portrait of the Christian home the journal of American History as your children grow will their faith grow too as both stories and statistics attest the number of evangelical children who abandon Christianity in adulthood is staggering to see effective change parents cannot leave their child's faith to chance rather families must start nurturing faith early you cannot start once your child is grown you must start at home strengthening family and home life is the best way to encourage your children to maintain a lifelong faith it starts at home upholds marriage and family as the proving ground for lasting success experienced pastors Kurt Bruner and Steve Stroepe provide a clear purpose an effective strategy and a simple plan for anyone who wants to be intentional in their homes their insights will help leaders recalibrate their priorities by asking them to evaluate their leadership where it counts most this newly revised edition evaluates the current trends families and young adults face that can contribute to this crisis don't let your child's faith fade to memory learn how you can create a home that will prepare them for lifelong faith it is a fact conceded by all that the constitution of the Christian family and its social and spiritual relations are not as fully developed as they should be growing need for resources to help parents engage in faith conversations at home talking points practices and resources included home not the congregation and parents not clergy youth ministers or Sunday school are the key mechanisms by which religious faith and practice are transmitted intergenerationally recent studies indicate that the single most important factor in youth becoming committed and engaged in their religious faith as young adults is that the family talks about religion at home however for many parents in the United States religious language is a foreign language faith at home will help parents learn this second language and introduce it to their children in simple meaningful concrete ways parents often ask how do we introduce prayer to our children if we do not necessarily believe prayer changes outcomes how do we approach reading the Bible with our children when our own relationship with it is mixed or complicated how do we talk about difficult things and where do we find God in the midst of them how do we teach our children to make a difference in the world how do we connect what happens at church to what happens at home these questions and many more are addressed with talking points practices and resources provided for each subject how does a woman build her house Nancy Wilson begins with the kitchen table remembering how each scratch and stain in the wood chronicles hours of stories and jokes questions and concerns through courtships and pregnancies prayers and discussions she continues each essay full of stories and encouragement the beauty of imperfection the comfort of vulnerability the strengths of mothers and daughters in law the honesty that is submission the laughter of reading aloud as ever while Nancy draws out our sins and weaknesses and sore spots she comforts us with the favor of God and rouses us to a joyous faith in our modern dislocated society many are searching for a church experience that offers true Christian sharing nurturing and discipleship in addition to teaching and worship for many such people the answer is found in the home church a small committed group of often diverse people who meet together in homes to pray eat sing study and share their lives Rob and Julia Banks have been involved with home churches for over twenty-five years and they are wonderful guides to the world of the home church together they have led seminars and assisted congregations in developing this style of gathering in many parts of the world Robert is also professor of the Ministry of the Laity and executive director of the De Pree Leadership Center at Fuller Theological Seminary he is the author of many books including Paul's Idea of Community the early house churches in their cultural setting Julia coordinates the community house in which she and Rob live with a group of students she is also active as a church planter and in building networks among house churches New York Times best seller and 2012 ECPA Book of the Year join Billy Graham as he reflects upon his life recounts God's many gifts and shares the challenges of fading bodily strength while still standing strong in his commitment to finish life well nearing home written by Reverend Billy Graham in his nineties is a deeply personal memoir that explores how our strength can continually be found in the foundational truths of Scripture and inexhaustible love of Christ despite the many trials of aging and the approaching end of our earthly time within these compassionate and restorative pages you're invited to journey with Graham as he considers the golden years and the impact of the Gospel hope on his life encourages you to finish strong and keep the faith recounts the Bible's foundational truths including death's ultimate defeat anticipates the hope of being reunited with loved ones in his heavenly home and finally seeing Christ face to face explore with me not only the realities of life as we grow older but also the hope and fulfillment and even joy that can be ours once we learn to look at these years from God's point of view and discover his strength to sustain us every day Billy Graham Christian ideas on family religion and the home in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries the cult of domesticity has often been linked to the privatization of religion and the idealization of the motherly ideal of the angel in the house this book revisits the Christian home of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and sheds new light on the stereotypical distinction between the private and public spheres and their inhabitants emphasizing the importance of patriarchal domesticity during the period and the frequent blurring of boundaries between the christian home and modern society the case studies included in this volume call for a more nuanced understanding of nineteenth and twentieth century christian ideas on family religion and the home evocative poems and prose fragments about home selected by one of the most celebrated poets of our time this is a book of longing yes and also spiritual discernment political awareness historical memory and deep intimacy carolyn forché in this poignant collection christian wiman draws together one hundred evocative poems and prose fragments about home exploring home's deep theological literary philosophical historical political and social dimensions wiman calls home a house a country a language a love a longing a grief a god it's a word that disperses into more definitions than one book can contain the tensions between diffusion and concentration roaming and rootedness precarity and security are everywhere in this book often in the same poem ranging from early modernism to the current moment and from southern africa to the arctic circle the selections are as diverse as the poets included collectively they envision an imaginative home for even the most homeless of modern readers completed entirely during quarantine amid the miseries of separation and isolation the collection offers a powerful vision of home as both a place and a way domestic abuse is a horror it lurks beneath the surface of our collective existence sometimes raising its ugly head where least expected in the church or within families of faith are we individually or collectively ready to respond what can or should congregations and their pastoral leaders do and as we survey the christian landscape across the united states and canada are we as the community of faith stepping up to the challenge presented by violence in the family there is no easy answer to the problems that surface when abuse impacts the christian family but each of the authors contributing to this volume believes fervently that it is imperative that followers of jesus and their spiritual shepherds respond to the cries for help to respond well necessitates both knowledge and a willingness to act this book is here to help it represents a collective effort to bring all of us a step farther in our journey of walking with christ over a sea of troubled waters none of us know as much as we should but all of us can learn from one another throughout the collection we provide an opportunity to examine a diversity of perspectives with the hope that each will in some way advance our understanding of the complexity of domestic violence issues in our midst within our churches and the communities where our churches minister clives staples lewis 1898 1963 called his theological writings as that of a layman and an amateur who merely attempted to restate ancient and orthodox doctrines however s steve park argues that lewis's theological reflections are well informed thoughtful and weighty for instance lewis's notion of mere christianity consistently shows his commitment to supernaturalism vs naturalism and eucatastrophic salvationism vs ethical developmentalism in sharp contrast to many prevailing theologians of his time in this book the author expounded lewis's theological writings rather comprehensively and organized the results according to lewis's signature literary motif of the journey towards home in four stages away from home homeward turning home away from home and the final home under these headings lewis's major theological and literary themes find illuminating treatments with rich contents and penetrating analyses in so doing the author presents to the readers probably for the first time a systematic theology of c s lewis it turns out that lewis more than just a storyteller was a significant participant in the world of theological reflections demonstrating himself to be a rather formidable theological mind to be reckoned with how does life in each room of your home manifest the gospel the christian gospel isn't just a spiritual reality the word became flesh and bone and the gospel becomes our porch dining room bedroom and kitchen the driving desire of the gospel is my life for yours our desire should be to have this love transform everything we do room by room this book works its way through every part of the house examining each part in light of scripture the claims of god are always total and this is evident on the doorposts and in a sink full of dishes self centeredness destroys in monotonously similar ways giving up life for another produces a harvest of kindness and mercy household questions should always begin with is this my life for yours the christian home school is a classic easy to read introduction that has led thousands of families into home schooling topics include why to home school how to get started answers to socialization questions curriculum choices and much more the new 1995 edition includes up to date information and a new chapter on delight directed study many people did not grow up in a christian home and many more do not consider their childhood experience a good model robert wolgemuth presents this inspiring practical book for people who want to have a christian home so what's so great about a christian home there's redemption there's forgiveness there's hope laughter and genuine happiness there's discipline and purpose there and there's grace lots of grace the most important place on earth covers eight answers to the question what does a christian home look like it's filled with stories and practical ideas that will convince any reader that a christian home is not an elusive stereotype it's something that really can be achieved and it's something worth having you'll see in january 2004 a newly founded evangelical organization called pasch was formed the word denotes the passover or time of new beginnings when god kept people safe in their own homes before leading them into freedom from abuse and oppression yet the word pasch also stands for peace and safety in the christian home pasch began as a small group of therapists sociologists domestic violence experts clergy biblical scholars survivors and dedicated christians in essence pasch was born out of the cries confusion and frustration of the people of god as we encountered many horrifying situations of domestic abuse in christian homes those of us who seek to address various aspects of the issue concluded that we needed a fellowship of concerted study prayer and action it was the dream of catherine clark kroeger that an edited book might emerge from the 2005 and 2006 pasch conferences in order that the papers presentations and discussions might be widely available we found that to make that happen we needed to work together that each of us possessed one piece of the puzzle and that by god's grace we could collectively begin to put the pieces together the topic of abuse is ugly which is why so many christians shy away from discussing it but in this volume we have tried to present an accurate faith based analysis of abuse in the christian family context we hope that various chapters stimulate discussion sometimes debate and in so doing prompt pastor and people to action we call on you the reader to consider the various ideas and perspectives offered throughout the book hopefully each chapter will prompt you to consider afresh how you conceptualize violence among families of faith like you the reader the contributors to our collection come from various faith traditions work in different contexts and see the issue in part based on their own narrative and training yet despite our differences and our ongoing debates we are unanimous that violence has no place in the home every home should be a safe place every home a shelter when abuse occurs in families of faith it is the responsibility of the church to offer compassion and support to victims and to call those who act abusively to accountability and justice our edited collection includes dan allender speaking from the heart about the impact of the fall on relationships between men and women all miles reflecting on his pastoral experience of the difficulties and opportunities of speaking out against violence in christian families bruce and karen mcandless davis offering one couple's story of the long journey toward accountability and dramatic change julie owens retelling her own dramatic story of abuse the life imprisonment of her ex partner and what she wished every pastor knew about domestic violence pastor jason helopoulos calls parents and church leaders to reclaim the practice of family worship this indispensable means of grace directs our children to seek christ daily preparing them to go out into the world as fully functioning christian adults who love christ and see all of life in relation to him through rhyme and engaging illustrations this book shows parents and children what god's plans are for worshipping him in their home a small boy has to leave his home suddenly leaving his extended family and most of his possessions behind in the middle of a very trying journey a kind stranger tells the boy the story of jesus' escape to egypt is this the day i die li quan asks himself this question daily knowing that he might be killed for practicing his faith american businessman ben fielding has no idea what his brilliant former college roommate is facing in china he expects his old friend has fulfilled his dream of becoming a university professor but when they are reunited in china after twenty years both men are shocked at what they discover about each other thrown together in an hour of encroaching darkness both must make choices that will determine not only the destinies of two men but two families two nations and two worlds
